This contract for the use of rent-a-base.com licences is made on the basis of the general terms and conditions for the use of rent-a-base.com. It becomes effective with activation of your database by us and ends upon expiry of the licence period. The general terms and conditions are available at www.rent-a-base.com/T&Cs, or from MANETEC GmbH & Co. KG, Lange Straße 61, D-38100 Braunschweig, Germany.

Renewal and termination of contract

Our customers stay with us, because they like our databases; not because they are bound by a contract. Until the day your licence period expires, you can choose whether to renew the licensing agreement or not. There's no need to cancel it explicitly.

Upgrades:

You can upgrade your licence at any time during the licence period. Please note that you CANNOT backdate a change to a contract with a longer and thus cheaper licence period. However, you can sign a new contract for a longer licensing period while your contract is running. This will terminate the existing contract and the balance will be credited to the total amount payable for your new contract.
